Southern Caregivers Resource Center Info Booth

Are you taking care of an elderly parent or grandparent? Then you need to know about a program called "REACH". It is offered by Southern Caregivers Resource Center and is a Resource assisting or caring for a family member or friend with memory loss, Alzheimer's Disease or Dementia. It offers Free Classes for the Community to care givers or non-caregivers to learn more about helpful resources available in the community, better to cope with the caregiver situation, learn stress techniques and management, take better care of yourself and loved ones, develop effective family communications skills and have a one on one screening with the Therapist social worker. They are a non-profit organization and partner with La Maestra Community Health Center, San Ysidro Health Center and are funded by North County Health Services offering REACH through The County of San Diego. Info booth at the library: 11/1; 11/15; and 11/29 2-4 p.m.
